PlacesMatter!

Places Matter! is an organisation devoted to generating a strong sense of place in living, working and learning environments throughout the Northwest.

Why? Because great places give people the feel good factor, drive economic activity and make the Northwest a better place.

We're passionate about towns, cities, parks, streets, squares, buildings large or small in cities, towns and rural locations. We can help clients and developers commission better design and make better decisions through our Places Matter! programme.

We're members of the UK Architecture Centre Network and work with CABI, English Heritage and the Homes & Communities Agency. We also work alongside RIBA North West and NWDA so you could say we've got friends in all the right places.

Places Matter! is an innovative programme of built environment activities which includes:

- Northwest Design Review Panel offering expert advice to public and private sector clients
- research into the economic value of good design
- built environment education programme
- public realm good practice guide
- training events on a variety of related topics

We also contribute to national and regional events, conferences and programmes.
